MESSAGE

My Dear Beloved Comrades, Brothers and Sisters,

EVERY BEGINNING HAS AN END TO GIVE SPACE TO A NEW BEGINNING

I am deeply touched by love and affection showered on me and messages of gratitude received in large numbers on my laying down the Office of General Secretary of the mighty Organization, All India Bank Officers' Confederation. In fact, these were your well meaning warm wishes received by me during all these years that kept me enthused, inspired and motivated.

The Banking Industry has seen enormous turns and tribulations all these years. The trade union movement in the banking industry is one of the biggest trade union movements in history which has witnessed huge upheavals, confronted and withstood the same by adopting effective strategies, monitored and modified suiting the needs of the hours. I am indebted to all my predecessors in this movement who had played key roles and strengthened this great Organization for all of us to take forward.

Comrades, it is you all, who gave me the opportunity and responsibility to steer this great Organization through these difficult times. It was in the 70th Executive Committee meeting held on 28.06.2013 at Kolkata when House unanimously reposed faith in me. I did my best to maintain the confidence and your continued unstinted faith encouraged me to discharge my responsibilities as General Secretary of AIBOC with all sincerity, dedication and with zeal to get a just and proper treatment for all my fellow officers in the banking industry. I bow my head in reverence to you all for the love and support, due to which I could traverse these challenging times.

Considering the unity, strength and fighting skills of our mighty Organisation, the proposed changes in the banking industry, in the name of reforms, are neither to be ignored nor to be apprehended about. Certainly, there are vested interests which would want and push for the changes suiting their agenda. Comrades, you all are highly educated and capable of evaluating the present position. You must analyze the finer points, believe in the strength of the Organization and above all believe in your leadership. The unanimously elected new team of Office Bearers under the Leadership of Com. Dilip Saha and Com. Franco Rajendra Dev Thomas, with wide exposure and experience are the right choice of Delegates and Observers assembled in 11th Triennial General Council at Jaipur. I am sure that future leadership has the acumen to devise the right strategy to take on the changes, keeping in mind the interest of you all. I am also confident that you will repose even more faith and cooperation to the new leadership.

Once again, I convey sincere thanks from the core of my heart to each one of you. May God Bless you. Amen!!

Comradely Yours,

(HARVINDER SINGH)
